County crews working quickly to remove blown snow from rural roads

Snow removal crews are working to clear drifting and blown snow from the County's 3,600 km road network.

Local gravel and rural roads throughout the County have been affected by blowing and drifting snow. The County has hired extra equipment and will be working extended hours to clear all rural roads as quickly as possible.

The County thanks residents and drivers for their patience as we work to clear snow and ice from roads.

If you are facing an emergency that risks your safety or life or the lives and safety of others, and your road is blown in, please call 911.
