Purpose:

The Wapiti Area Synergy Partnership was created to support early multi-stakeholder input into the companies project development processes and to facilitate communication among stakeholders and the operators on important issues. Subjects for discussion could include but are not limited to: specific project proposals (seismic activities, well sites, access roads, pipelines, and facilities, etc.), long-term development plans, and on-going operational issues.

Committee Structure:

The committee will be comprised of representatives from the companies and a cross-section of community interests, to be reviewed from time-to-time, according to the resources and experience deemed to be in the interests of the group's vision, mission, and purpose.

The committee will also include representatives from the AER, Alberta Sustainable Resources and Development, the County of Grande Prairie, and any Towns, Villages or Hamlets within our boundaries.

Participation in WASP by community members does not imply support for the companies. Company representatives will consult with individuals outside WASP and will continue to consult individually with affected stakeholders. The establishment of WASP is to supplement, not replace companies' obligations to consult individually with affected stakeholders under the AER's Directive 56.

Authority:

WASP will, through open dialogue and discussion, collaborate with companies in their planning and decision-making processes related to development and operations in the region. Companies will demonstrate how the group's input has been considered and used in project plans.

The companies will include input from Wapiti Area Synergy Partnership in the record of public consultation that forms part of regulatory applications submitted to the Alberta Energy Regulator (AER). To the extent that there is disagreement within the group, or among the group and the companies, regarding the project being applied for, those issues and differing views will be recorded in the AER application.
